March 27, 2025:

From an entrepreneur harboring dreams to becoming a leader with global influence, I am honored to be named by *Forbes* as a "Billionaire Trailblazer in the Crypto Space." The journey of TRON continues, and we will keep building a global payment system serving 300 million users while continuously expanding our user base. Decentralization will ultimately prevail!

Continuously empowering developers! The Graph is about to launch TRON balances.

November 20:

Being discussed and criticized by everyone, and being given an opportunity, is a good thing. Evaluations of people and matters are also dynamic; listening to everyone's suggestions and correcting one's own work is not a bad thing. Let's make more good connections.

November 18:

USDJ's final dance, which also counts as pulling some traffic for USDD, let's all shout together, USDD current annualized 12%!

Nov 18:

TRON was once one of the most active blockchains on DappRadar, and we once joined hands to explore the starry seas of GameFi. Now, times have changed, and life's turning points always appear when least expected. Farewell for now; we shall meet again.

Nov 18:

Regarding the USDJ delisting and redemption, first of all, users before the snapshot will receive 100% 1:1 rigid redemption! USDJ is an old project, and the official has been handling the delisting for as long as a year, having repurchased over 95% of USDJ at prices far higher than 1. Finally, when there was only $200,000 worth of USDJ left in the market, this remaining portion will also be permanently redeemed 1:1, so users don't need to worry! The final delisting is conducted in the mode of SAI, which requires binding to a TRX ratio, and this has nothing to do with the actual redemption value for users!

Nov 17:

USDD has broken through $530 million, growing against the trend, steadfastly sticking to 12% annualized flexible rates without wavering! Deposit and withdraw anytime!
@sunwukong_DEX 10% annualized, deposit and withdraw anytime without wavering!

Web3 open universal data layer @graphprotocol announces expansion of support for the TRON #TRON network, launching the The Graph Token API, enabling developers to instantly access pre-indexed blockchain data.

This expansion is built on the initial integration of Substreams, a high-performance data streaming product that went live on TRON earlier this year. The combination of the Token API and TRON Substreams will help TRON ecosystem builders accelerate their development processes and expand data infrastructure for standard and emerging use cases.

A lesson I've recently spent a lot of time and cost to learn: respect the fate of others and let go of the savior complex. For there cannot be good without evil, black without white, or strength without weakness. Buddha only assists those destined for it; for those who are not, simply cut ties.

Thank you all for reminding me of my birthday.

I wish you every success.

Nov 4:

When Bitcoin fell from $1,000 to $200, they shouted that crypto was dead.

When Bitcoin dropped from $20,000 to $3,000, they shouted that crypto was dead.

When Bitcoin declined from $60,000 to $17,000, they shouted that crypto was dead.

Now, as Bitcoin retreats from $120,000 to the $100,000 range, they are shouting again.

In every cycle, some people exit the market, some leave in tears, while others laugh in the end.

History doesn't repeat itself, but it often rhymes.

DYOR.

October 30:

Pessimists are always right, while optimists always move forward.

Pessimists are correct, optimists succeed.

Changpeng Zhao, also known as "CZ," is a Chinese-born Canadian entrepreneur who founded Binance, which became the world's largest cryptocurrency exchange by volume in 2017. In 2023, he and Binance pleaded guilty to anti-money laundering and sanctions violations in the U.S., leading to his resignation as CEO and a four-month prison sentence, which he completed in September 2024; he was later pardoned by U.S. President Donald Trump in October 2025.

October 23: Deeply grateful for today's pardon and to President Trump for upholding America's commitment to fairness, innovation, and justice.

Will do everything we can to help make America the Capital of Crypto and advance web3 worldwide.

(Still in flight, more posts to come.)
